NINETEEN MURDERED WITH AXE

1,000 KILLED BY EARTHQUAKE

WOMAN QUIZZED IN 9 DEATHS

Alleged Poisoning at Lansing Linked With Other Cases

CHILDREN DIE IN SAME HOME

Series of Crimes for Decade Suspected by Police

LANSING, Mich., — (Associated Press) — While Mrs. Emma Kopple is awaiting trial here in connection with the death by poisoning of her 12-year-old foster son, Harry, police are seeking to learn the cause of at least nine deaths in her household within a decade.

So far, the following deaths have been revealed as having occurred in Mrs. Kopple's immediate family or in her home:

A Cold State school boy who boarded at the Kopple home.

Mrs. Kopple's nine-day-old baby, Rose.

Pearly Klaus, her niece.

A little boy, unnamed, also being boarded.

A child known only as "Shawko."

A child of Traugette Hedrick.

(Mrs. Kopple is said to have acted as housekeeper at the home of Otto Hedrick in Deckerville.)

Three children by her first husband, Newton Higgins, with whom she said she lived in St. Louis, Michigan.

FOUR DEATHS ADMITTED

Mrs. Kopple has admitted the death of the first four but denies all knowledge of any child named "Shawko" or "any child of Traugette Hedrick's." No child died at the Hedrick home while she was there, she said.

That there was anything mysterious in connection with these deaths, Mrs. Kopple vigorously denies. She answers the officials' query as to why the Cold State boy was buried a few hours after his death by saying that diphtheria caused the child's death and "we had to bury the child at once."

Two of her three children by Higgins, she said in an interview, died at birth. Scarlet fever took the third, a boy of three, she said.

Revelations of her previous marriage was the new development upon which police worked today. She is said to have told them that Higgins left her and that she later was granted a divorce and married again.

BOARDER HELD

Jim Shannon, a boxer, a boarder at the Kopple home, together with Mrs. Kopple is held in connection with the death of her foster child. She said that Shannon gave the boy white powders to "settle his stomach.

"I wanted to get a doctor but Jim Shannon said to give him some powder," she said. "And I didn't give it to the boy. Jim Shannon did."

Mrs. Kopple did not hesitate to admit when questioned that she formerly used a habit-forming drug.

"I used to take a drug," she told an interviewer in the presence of officers. "A doctor started giving it to me for pains and I kept up using it for several years. But I haven't had any for a long time. You won't find any on me. I have no craving for it. I just quit it."

FOUR COUNTRIES ARE IN GRIP OF DEADLY PLAGUE

Plague is reported in various parts of Europe.

Two victims have died in the very outskirts of Paris, while in Algeria, Spain and Egypt, pestilence is spreading, causing grave alarm. Steamers are held in quarantine in Mediterranean ports as a result of having cleared from Seville and Oran, where the plague is reported severe.

Superstitution whispers that the dread plague germs emanated from the tomb of Tut Ankh Amen in the Red Valley of the Kings, near Luxor, Egypt.

* * *

PARIS—Four cases of plague have been discovered in the outskirts of Paris. Two victims have died.

The ministry of health has ordered extreme precautions. The great sewers are to be completely cleaned and all the rats that infest them slain.

* * *

A dispatch to the Paris Journal from Alexandria states a plague has broken out in Egypt since the opening of the tomb of Tut Ankh Amen. Natives there believe germs from the ancient Pharaoh's catafalque caused the death of Lord Carnarvon and of George J. Gould, who visited Luxor.

* * *

ORAN, Algeria—One case of plague is reported. The steamer Gibel Gerjon which left Oran has been quarantined at Gibraltar with 60 passengers aboard.

Pestilence is reported at Seville and a steamer, the Jarlot, with Spanish passengers, is quarantined at Gibraltar.

BERLIN UPRISING DUE TOMORROW

BERLIN—(United Press)— Communists who have rioted in many Ruhr cities and in Saxony, plan a great upheaval in Berlin tomorrow, according to unconfirmed rumors afloat here.

Bloody fighting between reds and police at Dresden at midnight resulted in 11 deaths, according to reports reaching here.

The French, who have withheld from interference in the disturbances in most instances, today prohibited public assemblies at Recklinghausen and probably will extend the prohibition to other parts of the Ruhr.

The move, it is believed, may mark the beginning of French intervention to prevent serious consequences of the rioting.

AUTHORITIES ALARMED

The possibility of a red disturbance in Berlin is alarming the authorities as this, it is felt, would be far more serious than those elsewhere.

At Dresden during the night, communists plundered a shop where arms were sold. Then they pressed in upon a little group of police, assailing the latter from both sides. Volleys were exchanged and many fell.

Besides 11 dead, 60 are reported to have been wounded. The battle was terrible and that it was fought in the darkness, it was impossible for the police to disperse the communists who fired from concealment.

A mob stoned the French patrol at Stoppenberg today and two Germans were wounded in the fighting which followed. The chief officer of the French ordered his troops to clear the streets. A woman and a worker were killed near Solingen in a communist clash.

BILLION OFFERED FOR U. S. SHIPS

Bid Made by Concern in New York State

WASHINGTON—(Associated Press)—The shipping board will investigate thoroly the offer of more than $1,000,000,000 received yesterday for the entire government merchant fleet, Chairman Lasker said today, and if the bidders back up their proposal, "there can be no doubt the board will make the award to them."

The offer was presented by John W. Slack, president of the Columbia Postal Supply company of Silver Creek, N. Y. It proposed to pay $1,051,000,000 "for all ships, active and inactive and all other property of the United States shipping board, real, personal and mixed."

An initial payment of $51,000,000 would be made on October 1, 1923, and $50,000,000 yearly thereafter until the entire sum had been paid.

The proposal as made public by the shipping board continued:

"We agree to operate present lines with at least as good service as that rendered by the United States shipping board during the entire life of the agreement. The government to have the right to repossess all the property at any time that there is a default in payment of any part of the principal sum or any installment of interest. Interest to be paid in full on the unpaid balance quarterly at the same time as quarterly payments are made on the principal.

"We are prepared to furnish a bond of one million dollars guaranteeing that we will sign a contract if awarded same and to discuss any or all other details of such a contract."

$20,000 DAMAGES ARE SOUGHT

Mother Sues as Result of Injuries to Her Children

Personal injury actions in which the total compensation asked is $20,000 were filed in common pleas court Tuesday by Mrs. Bessie Haggard, E. Elm-st for her two children, Helen, 5 and John, 2, against C. A. Clum, farmer, Marion-rd.

The two children are alleged to have been permanently injured on May 7, when a car driven by Clum, crashed into another machine occupied by the plaintiffs at the corner of Spring-st and Central av.

Mrs. Haggard charges that her son and daughter were hurt because of negligence of the defendant.

The mother and children were driving with John Tullis, 217 E. Elm-st, when the accident occurred.

Little John was thrown a distance of 10 feet falling on the pavement. Ligaments were torn from the shoulders and his entire body bruised, the petition recites.

Helen suffered injuries to the spine, a cut on the ball of left eye, and nose, the petition says.

HOUSES WRECKED BY FLOOD

Oklahoma City Swept by Overflow of River

OKLAHOMA CITY — (Associated Press)—With damage from the overflow of the North Canadian river already running into hundreds of thousands of dollars, the crisis is expected to be reached in Oklahoma City today when a two-foot rise reported upstream yesterday arrives here.

Hundreds of houses and stores in the southern bottoms have been washed away or flooded and more than 1,000 persons are homeless.

One life is known to have been lost. An unknown hero gave his life in rescue work late last night. The man, about 25 years old, was a volunteer worker in the flooded Walnut Grove section. He had made repeated rescue trips.

Garbed in a bathing suit he swam out in the swirling waters to a flooded house to make sure all occupants had escaped. He was last seen by a policeman as he was caught in the current and drawn under the walls of the building.

The waters have completely cut off Packington, where the stock yards and packing plants are located. Unless the flood subsides greatly within the next few days it will be necessary to use boats to bring provisions to the city from Packington, it was said.

Five to ten feet of water covers Wheeler park and it is believed some of the zoo animals have perished. Water stands more than five feet deep in Western league ball park and a portion of the fair grounds is flooded.

About 100 refugees were cared for last night at the city auditorium. More than 100 cots were housed by the Salvation Army which is directing the feeding of the flood sufferers.

Orders were issued by Mayor Cargill authorizing refugees to occupy any vacant houses in the city.

KILLINGS VEILED IN MYSTERY

Birmingham Police Puzzled Over Series of Crimes

17 PERSONS ARE INJURED

Assaults Made on all Victims With Same Weapon

BIRMINGHAM, Ala. — (Associated Press) — Birmingham police are trying to solve the murder of Charles Graffeo, the latest victim of a series of axe assaults, which during the past 42 months has taken the lives of 19 persons and resulted in injuries to 17 others.

Graffeo was found dead at his store in an outlaying residential section last night with his skull crushed by the blow of an axe, and his throat slashed. A blood spattered axe stood behind the door. Its handle was shortened so that it could be carried beneath a coat, police believe.

The dead man's pockets had been rifled and the store robbed. The assailant evidently had entered under the pretence of making a purchase, the police said.

The attack upon Graffeo was the fourth case of its kind this year.

Alleged perpetrators have been sent to jail in only three of the long list of cases. Police claim to have solved three other cases, declaring the wounded victims refused to prosecute or cooperate in obtaining convictions.

CASES DIVIDED

Police declare they have divided the axe cases into two classifications. In the first grocery men and cafe owners have been the victims and in the other group the intermingling of the races is said to have been involved.

Theories regarding the crimes have covered a large range. While the attacks in some cases apparently have had robbery as the motive, in some the idea has been advanced that they were the result of quarrels between negroes who had stolen property and men who were acting as "fences" in disposing of the property.

Police also have held the theory that a number of the cases bear evidence of having been committed by drug addicts.

Because of similarity in the attacks upon the storekeepers, it has been suggested that the crimes were committed by the same person or groups of persons.

REVENGE SEEN IN WOMAN'S DEATH

Murder of Wealthy Michigan Man's Wife Probed

LANSING, Mich. — (Associated Press.)—An inquest will be held today in the slaying of Mrs. Pearl Britten, wife of a wealthy Lansing contractor, while police continue to investigate reports that revenge by political and business enemies of William Britten, the husband, may have been the motive for the crime.

Mrs. Britten was shot to death when she left her bed room to investigate a noise in the darkened hallway of her home early Sunday morning.

The slayer, at first believed to have been a burglar who fired at Mrs. Britten when she surprised him, may have been motivated by something other than fear of capture when he fired, police now declare. They admit, however, that they are without definite clues and plan to question Britten again in an effort to learn if enemies of his may have some connection with the affair.

The trail of the slayer led bloodhounds yesterday to the Grank Trunk railway yards several blocks from the Britten home and then disappeared.

Mrs. Britten and Miss Helen Powers, a lifetime friend, were the only occupants of the house when the slaying occurred, Britten being in Chicago. When the sound of the revolver shot echoed thru the corridors of the house, Miss Powers slammed the bed room door and screamed for help. When police arrived they found the body of Mrs. Britten upon the floor, her arms crossed upon her breast, as tho her slayer had hesitated long enough in his flight to pay this respect to the dead.

He is a grandson of Jacob J. Vandergrift formerly of Pittsburgh. After his father died at Pittsburgh in 1915, he married his stepmother, 12 years his senior. A suit by Vandergrift over $125,000, he alleges he turned over to his wife from his grandfather's estate, is awaiting decision.

Killing in Chicago is Laid to Blackhanders

CHICAGO — (United Press) — Charles Gullo, 49, a commission merchant, was slain within a block of his home in the Italian district today, by two men who fired ten shots into his body.

Police described the killing as a "Mafia shooting" and said they believed that the murderers were "black handers" to whom Gullo had refused to pay tribute.

Gullo was the father of 11 children. His wife was the first of 200 persons to reach the scene before the gunmen disappeared, running down the street.

DEATH OF WOMEN INVESTIGATED

Given Water Cure in Chicago Sanitorium, is Charge

CHICAGO — (Associated Press) The state department of registration and education today began an investigation into the deaths of two women shortly after they were discharged from a surburban sanitarium. One of whom died of starvation, according to the death certificate. John W. Folmer an inspector reported to the department that relatives and friends of the two women told him that while they were patients at the sanitarium they were given the "water cure," applied with a garden hose with an intense nozzle spray and were "dieted" until they were living skeletons just before their deaths.

The women were given no food and little water for weeks at a time, it was charged.

The sanitarium is a private institution operated by Dr. George E. Boffenmeyer, a former Chicago practioner.

Dr. Boffenmeyer was said to have admitted the women were fed very little. "I fasted 80 days myself once," he was quoted as saying. "They won't die from that."

The women were Mrs. Anna Kolar who went to the sanitarium on April 2, left on May 22 and died three days later and Miss Gertrude Klasges, 29, a stenographer. She entered the institution on January 11, stayed seven or eight weeks and died last week.

OHIO WIFE SHOT

Cincinnati Man Then Turns Gun on Himself

CINCINNATI, — (United Press) —J. W. Jones, 51, is dead; Mrs. Mary Jones, 47, his wife, is battling for life on a cot in the General hospital. The shooting followed the appearance of a lone penny and Jones' words:

"That's my last cent, Mary."

Jones, according to the four children, confronted their mother with new charges of extravagance.

For months the house bills had been running ahead of his income.

As he turned his pockets inside out, a lone copper rolled on the floor.

"Daddy grabbed mother, and they staggered into the bedroom," Unema, 16, told the police.

"There was a shot and mother fell down. Then Daddy tried to shoot Dola, my brother, but Dola knocked the gun muzzle away and Daddy put it to his own head and fired. Daddy was awfully mad.

"We tried to help them, but we couldn't. I don't remember the rest."

HOMAGE TO NATION'S HEROES URGED

INDIANAPOLIS — (Associated Press)—The splendor of the sacrifices of America's war dead were recalled today by Alvin Owsley, national commander of the American Legion, in a proclamation urging the nation to pay homage to its heroes in a fitting commemoration on Memorial Day.

Commander Owsley said:

"The world is racked by the quibbling of nations over the spoils of war but the sublime faith in the achievements of the recent world struggle is still in the minds of the men and women of America, who cherish a belief in the righteousness of the cause.

"Brave Americans in the pursuance of the conflict's grim course became imbued with the fires of ambition which carried them on to the war's objective—the destruction of an unrighteous power.

"The ideals of our citizen-soldiery found expression in the defense of humanity. To have fought for the flag in the great conflict was to have maintained the cause of right. In the words of one soldier, who wrote to his mother on the eve of battle:

"'For myself I would have you believe that whatever end I meet, I met it with an even mind, constant in the conclusion that I would rather h gone out to this war and not come back than not to have gone at all. My chief regret, if I may not live to see the end, is that I may not witness the triumph of right over wrong in this, the most terrible eruption of the forces of reaction in the history of man. That these ces can triumph is unthinkable; if th are to win I would rather die than witness the victory.'

"It was in such spirit that the men of this great nation died. It was that unalterable pride in the defense of humanity's rights that led them to give their all. eirs was the realization of the spirit of America.

"Our sacred privilege is to enshrine them in the heart of America and the world. Hallowed tombs of our dead lie in the poppy-covered fields of Flanders and the homeland. We, their comrades of the American Legion, shall not forget their deeds.

"On the annual recurrence of Memorial Day, in devotion and reverence, we turn to consecrate the resting place of these our heroic dead. We must bow to the splendor of the sacrifice, the heroism of their lives, the glory of their belief in America and our institutions.

"As national commander of the American Legion, I implore every man, woman and child of our mighty nation to pay homage to the memory of these brave men of every race, class and creed of every war. Let us reconsecrate their resting places as shrines of a free America; rededicate our lives to the furtherance of ideals for which they died."

CITY WILL ANNEX 250 ACRES

North and Northwest Territory to be Taken in

S. MAIN-ST REPAIR ORDERED

George Walther Purchaser of $31,000 Bonds

An ordinance providing for the annexation of approximately 250 acres of land to the north and northwest of the present city limits, was passed by the city commission at the meeting held Monday night. It includes land on Rice, Leland, Hazel, Latham and Feeman-sts, west of Cole-st; on O'Connor, Ashton, Tremont and Murphy, west of Metcalf-st, and on Kildare and Ashwood, north of Robb-av.

Petition for the annexation of the property will be filed with the county commissioners by City Solicitor Landis. The county will set a date for hearing the proposal. When annexation of the above property was discussed some time ago, property owners registered a protest but not, it is said, they favor the annexation.

An estimating board composed of J. I. Beck, John A. Mohr and P. C. Beck submitted reports on completed improvements on Elizabeth-st, from Murphy to O'Connor-av; Lowell-av, from Woodlawn-av to Judkins-av; Leland-av, from Charles-st to Woodward-av; Lakewood-av from Woodlawn-av to Nixon-av; College-av, from Rice-av to Hazel-av.

Several ordinances were passed, including a measure amending an ordinance passed July 10, 1911, regulating the digging of ditches and drains. In an amendment adopted, licensed plumbers are exempted from the provision which requires the posting of a bond by the applicant for a permit to excavate under sidewalks. The plumbers are properly bonded otherwise, the city held in ordering the amendment prepared.

WILL REPAIR STREETS

An ordinance authorizing the repair of S. Main-st, from the Market house to Kibby-st, was passed, as also was an ordinance transferring $600 from the city depository to the public health fund to meet needed expenses of that department.

George A. Walther was the best bidder for the Central-av paving bonds to the amount of $31,000, bearing five percent interest. An ordinance was passed authorizing the sale of the bonds to Walther. The sum of $1,370 was borrowed from the police and fire pension funds to meet other expenses; $815 to be used from the police pension fund and $455 from the firemen's pension fund.

A petition to erect a drive-in gasoline station at Market and McDonel-sts was presented to the commission by E. H. Dorsey and R. W. Parmenter. The petition, which bears the signatures of 75 percent of the property owners in the immediate vicinity, was referred to City Manager C. A. Bingham.

Bingham was directed to again request the county commissioners to repair W. North-st, held to be a county highway, the county officials having failed to reply to a communication on this matter mailed by Bingham last week, he stated.

OIL OPERATIONS NORMAL IN FT. RECOVERY FIELD

Oil operations in the Ft. Recovery field are maintaining a normal pace, local operators report, with the drilling of several test and wild cat wells marking efforts of drillers to locate the direction of formation.

Drop in oil prices has not greatly affected production, it is reported, but operators are anxiously scanning the market for signs of a steadying influence. If the price goes much lower, curtailment of oil activities is inevitable, they state, altho the field will witness considerable drilling to hold leases regardless of price.

Several good wells have been brought in with the average sprinkling of lighter wells. Among the new ones are the Tester and Clark well, two miles ahead of production. A good producer is reported.

Logan Oil Co. drilled in a well on the P. E. Weaner lease, estimated to 10 barrels. The company is drilling another.

TED PLANS TO FISH TOMORROW

Ted has developed a weakness along the same line as that which afflicts Chief of Police T. A. Lanker at times—a desire to go fishing. The head of the police department has attained a somewhat enviable reputation as an angler and nothing is more pleasureabl to him than a few hours along the banks of the Maumee river, near his old home at Grand Rapids.

So, Ted will fish tomorrow. He always does on Decoration Day. Good time to spend a few hours in laziness. If the fish refuse to bite he gets an opportunity for a snooze.

Fair in north and east and slightly cloudy and somewhat unsettled in southwest portion tonight and Wednesday. Slightly cooler near Lake Erie tonight. That doesn't sound so bad for a Decoration Day forecast.

Ted attended the Hawkins-Ball play, "East is West" at the Faurot last night. Found it mighty interesting, well staged and costumed and [illegible] pleasurable. Is telling all his friends about it, hoping they too will take advantage of the opportunity of witnessing a high class production.

Had intended going to the big auto races at Indianapolis, but Lizzie has an aggravated attack of tonsilitis. It is feared she could not withstand the trip.

GAMBLING ORDER IS OBEYED

Baseball Pools Closed, Dice Stopped, Police Say

Proclamation issued by Governor Donahey, calling on mayors and sheriffs in Ohio to suppress gambling in baseball pools, punch boards, and slot machines was in force 100 percent in Allen-co Tuesday, city and county authorities announced.

Many persons engaged in the operation of pools had anticipated the order, Sheriff Crosson declared and were closed down when he or his deputies called to enforce the executive edict.

Only one pool was running on the Allen-co side in Delphos. While not concerned with the Van Wert-co side of the city, Crosson said gambling was stopped there before notice was received from the county seat.

No pools were found running in Spencerville, Bluffton or elsewhere. Several punch boards were discovered, however, and store owners were warned to obey the governor's order.

In Lima the proclamation was enforced partly by the police and partly by the owners themselves, before the officers arrived to serve notice, it is stated.

More than a score of pools were closed, as a result of enforcement of the edict in Lima. Over 40 cigar stores, pool halls and soft drink places, where shaking dice for drinks and cigars was permitted, have stopped the games.

MAN IN CALIFORNIA IS SUED FOR DIVORCE HERE

Earl R. Grubbs, laborer, Maricopa-co, California, was made defendant in a divorce petition filed in common pleas court Tuesday, by Martha Grubbs, charging neglect.

Mrs. Grubbs asserts she was compelled to work to support herself, because of her mate's refusal to provide for her. She asks the right of resumption of her former name, Marie Dodge.

CHANGES PLANNED AT COURTHOUSE

Enlargement of Various Offices is Under Consideration

PART OF BASEMENT VACATED

More Privacy Sought by Board of Commissioners

Rearrangement of office rooms in the court house may be made by the county commissioners, following the completion of alterations now in progress in the building, it was announced Tuesday.

Living quarters formerly occupied by janitor William Feth and family have been vacated. Feth has moved to a residence elsewhere.

Vacation of the apartments will add four more offices in the basement. More space is provided by the abandonment of toilet rooms, which are replaced by the new comfort station at Main and North-sts.

Officials may fit up the janitor's rooms for offices, A. J. Gray, commissioner declared. The present offices upstairs are too small and afford no privacy, they explain.

Members of the board find it impossible to conduct business at times because of interruptions made by callers. Many of these interruptions are salesmen who want to sell something to the county, and insist on being heard, even tho a hearing on a more important project may be in progress.

MORE ROOM FOR BOTKINS

By moving out, present quarters occupied by the commissioners can be turned over to the county treasurer. More room is needed it is stated by Treasurer Harry E. Botkin, whose offices adjoin that of the commissioners

Additional space is also required by the growing amount of litigation in probate and juvenile courts.

Another official demanding more elbow space is County Clerk John T. Cotner. Appeals court judges are also protesting, as is the surveyor, county recorder and sheriff.

County Auditor Phillips will be in a measure taken care of by providing a room out of part of the south corridor.

No plan has been worked out for changing offices, Commissioner Gray declared. One proposal being considered is to give up the women's rest room in the basement and combine probate and juvenile courts in the basement. The juvenile court now occupies two rooms.

Another plan suggested is to put the sheriff's office adjacent to the jail.

APPEALS COURT DENIES WRIT IN CROSSING CASE

A writ of error sought by the Chicago & Erie Railroad, defendant in an action brought by W. W. Craig and other county officials to compel the railroad company to abolish several bad crossings in Allen-co, was denied by the court of appeals Tuesday.

The county was winner in the lower courts. Judges of appeals court are of the opinion that the application for a writ had not been made within the time limit of 70 days prescribed by law.

COUPE STOLEN

H. K. Heiniger, Francis-apts, reported to police Tuesday that his coupe had been stolen from Elizabeth-st.

THREE NABBED IN LIQUOR RAID

Third Offense Charged in Case of Lee Clements

NOT GUILTY PLEAS ENTERED

Big Supply of Booze Found, Police Declare

Three persons pleaded not guilty Tuesday morning in criminal court to charges of illicit possession of liquor, following a raid by police late Monday afternoon in which they assert 106 quarts of moonshine whiskey was confiscated.

Lee Clements, 34, of 715 W. Eureka-st, also pleaded not guilty to transporting liquor. His bond on the possession charge, alleged third offense, was set at $4,000 and his automobile is held as bond on the transportation count. Mrs. L. R. Clements, 30, and Albert Lewis, 45, of 518 Vine-st, pleaded not guilty to being accessories after the fact. Their bonds were fixed at $1,000 each.

Preliminary hearing for Clements was set for Friday afternoon. If evidence warrants it, he will be bound over to the grand jury, as Judge Jackson does not have final jurisdiction in cases where a third offense is charged. A finding of guilty carries with it a possible fine of $3,000 and one year in the penitentiary.

POLICE GET TIP

Following a tip Monday afternoon Police Chief Lanker, Chief of Detectives Kipker, Sergeants Edwards and Officers Watkins, Keller and Blair, raided the Clements home.

Clements was not at home, but according to police, Lewis was in the basement trying to filter some of the alleged illicit booze. He was arrested and taken to headquarters.

Police found a small rubber tube leading thru a hole in a concrete wall at one end of the cellar. This apparently lead to a barrel sealed in a cavern beneath the garage. It was fixed in such a way that a surplus supply of liquor could be poured thru the tube into a barrel and then when one wished to bottle it, the fluid might be siphoned out into bottles.

Police poured a gallon of coal-oil thru the tube, destroying whatever liquor remained in a barrel and then removed the tube. A thick concrete wall now stands between the barrel and the cellar.

CACHE FOUND

Officers began a systematic search of the house and in an upstairs closet, while removing a coat from a hook, uncovered a cache beneath the attic stairway, in which many bottles of booze were stored, they state.

This was loaded into an automobile and taken to headquarters where Police Captain Strick sealed and labeled each bottle. Part of it was pure alcohol, police said.

Mrs. Clements was arrested after the house had been thoroly searched and she was slated along with Lewis.

Officers Laughlin and Mills, who had been notified with other policemen to be on the lookout for Clements, took him into custody in the public square later in the day.

OTTAWA MAY GET BIG FACTORY

Merchant Prince Proposes to Make Gift to Labor

A mass meeting is expected to be held Saturday evening when John J. Rampe, Ottawa's merchant prince, will renew his promise to give laboring men and women of the town a site for a factory.

His offer is to turn over a site on S. Walnut-st to a company which will come to Ottawa and employ at least 100 men. A number of inquires have been made concerning the offer, but none have so far accepted it.

In a statement Tuesday regarding the project, Rampe said: "I will talk to the laboring men and women of the community at 7 p. m. Saturday to know if they will accept my proposition to start a factory, so they will have employment here."

"I positively want to help them. The thing uppermost in my heart today is to do something for those who labor. I know that will make them happy."

Rampe's proposition has been endorsed by Mayor W. A. Beutler, who has himself made strenuous efforts to remedy Ottawa's factoryless state.

"We have probably spent more money than any town of the size of Ottawa in the state for the purpose of inviting factories to come here, but it seems that unforseen conditions arise in almost every case. I am hopeful that the Rampe proposition will be successful," Beutler declared.

COUNTY AGENT WARNS AGAINST FLAG SMUT

Anything looking like black streaks on the leaves of wheat should be reported at farm bureau headquarters at once, for it is flag smut, according to Farm Agent J. W. Henceroth.

Shipments of bran from smutted wheat have been made from various sections of Illinois to more than 16 counties in Ohio within the last two years, Henceroth said. It is easily recognizable at this time of year, infected plants being reduced in vigor, fail to produce heads and die prematurely, it is declared.

NO ACTION ON FREE MAIL SERVICE ASKED AT OTTAWA

Action by postal authorities on the request from Ottawa for free mail delivery is still pending, Postmaster S. O. Kerr declared Tuesday.

All requirements have been met so far as qualifications are concerned, the postoffice having sufficient business last year to warrant the delivery, Kerr said. A recommendation has been made by B. F. Cordrey, postal inspector. A petition signed by hundreds of citizens was forwarded to Washington early this year.

NON SUPPORT CHARGED PUTNAM-CO DIVORCE SUIT

Mrs. Cora A. Compton, Leipsic, filed suit for divorce Tuesday in common pleas court of Putnam-co against Fred Compton, of McComb, alleging non-support.

He has failed to provide her with food and clothing, she charges, and for ten years has been lacking in affection.

They were married in Upper Sandusky in 1891, the petition recites, and nine children were born, four of whom are dead. Four others are married, Mrs. Compton declares, and the youngest, William Compton, 15, stays with her and receives no support from his father, she asserts.

JUDGMENT REVERSED

A verdict was given by a jury in Putnam-co common pleas court Monday afternoon reversing a judgment in the court of Justice of the Peace Grainger at Columbus Grove for the plaintiffs in the case of Butler Bros., Chicago, against Fred C. Busche, Columbus Grove clothier. Merchandise valued at $241 is involved in the suit. Motion for re-trial will be introduced, according to attorneys.

COWS EAT NAILS

Buying cattle direct from the range will save you many a heartache and prevent stomach ache among the cows says J. W. Henceroth, Putnam-co farm agent, who declares that rusty nails, bits of wire and other hardware are found in their innards oftentimes.

One of the best type steers he ever saw failed to do well owing to a piece of rusty wire piercing the stomach and diaphragm, Henceroth said.

Others were prevented from making satisfactory gains due to inflamations and adhesions caused by an injured stomach wall.

Steers coming thru stockyards often pick up such objects. When buying direct from the range this danger is overcome, according to the agent.

"PRODUCER CONTRACTS" HELD AS STABILIZERS

Use of "producer contracts' as a means of stabilizing marketing of their farm products is gaining favor among farmers, according to officials of the Putnam-co Farm bureau.

The question of steady, orderly marketing of these products is receiving great thought on the part of farmers and farm bureau leaders. Commodity organizations are growing stronger, it is reported.

ALLEGED LIQUOR SUPPLY SOURCE IS INVESTIGATED

J. S. Ogan, prosecuting attorney and Sheriff R. N. McCullough are investigating an alleged liquor supply in Gilboa, six young men, one of them a juvenile, having been quizzed late Monday afternoon by the officials.

The young men are declared to have had their spirits aroused to a dangerous degree by liquor from some unknown source, leading to complaint by Gilboa officials.

The boys attended a dance Saturday night at Leipsic and were ejected because of their condition, according to information reaching McCullough's ears.

No arrests have been made in the investigation.

NO GAMBLING AT GROVE, PUTNAM-CO SHERIFF TELLS

Columbus Grove has been given a clean bill of health by Sheriff R. N. McCullough in his county-wide crusade on gambling devices on orders from Governor Donahey.

The town is free of slot machines and similar devices, the sheriff says. Preparations had been made at several places to install baseball pools, but the order came a short time before operations were begun, McCullough said. A campaign waged last year in Columbus Grove against gambling accounts for the lack of it now, according to the sheriff.

McCullough so far has enforced the order in Glandorf, Gilboa and Ottawa. He expects soon to extend it to Continental, Leipsic and other towns of the county.

BOND FILED IN APPEAL FOR TRANSFER OF SUIT

Bond of $500 each was filed Tuesday in the cases of Michael B. Imm, Joseph Klausing and Albert Lammers, who seek damages as a result of an accident March 26. The B. & O. Railroad Co. seeks to have the cases transferred to the federal court at Toledo, from Putnam-co common pleas court.

The railway corporation recently asked that the cases be transferred from local jurisdiction because it is incorporated under laws of Maryland. A hearing on the petitions will be held soon.

Imm asks for $30,000, Klausing $10,000 and Lammers $5,000.

RECITAL PLANNED

Pupils of the class of Miss Dorothy Wispert, dancing instructor of Ft. Wayne, will give a recital at the Delphos High school, Jefferson building, Friday evening.

INCREASED ENROLLMENT IN OTTAWA SCHOOL MAY NECESSITATE BUILDING

Providing the same increase in enrollment is shown next term as in the last several years the Ottawa board of education may be required to begin considering a building program for the local schools, Superintendent Edwin Sommers declared Tuesday.

The situation is acute, especially in the high school, Sommers said. Since 1920 there has been an increase from 85 to 130 pupils, the latter representing the maximum that can be taken care of at the east side building, according to the superintendent.

The year following the 1920-21 term the enrollment was 100 and the last term closed with an attendance of 130. If this same percentage of increase is maintained an extension to the building will in all probability be needed, Sommers asserted.

Increase in the normal school enrollment may be a factor in the case, the superintendent pointed out. This institution is maintained jointly with the high school. The attendance next term is expected to show a material increase and it is thought it will be at least 35 students.

In the elementary grades even the slightest enrollment will bring the attendance well up to the maximum of 40 pupils per grade, Sommers said. The enrollment during the last term was from 30 to 35 per grade, or a total of about 225.

E. P. Reed, university soils expert, will assist in holding meetings in these fields, as follows:

June 7—H. C. Schroeder, Greensburg-tp, 9 a. m.; J. W. Edwards, near Vaughnsville, 1:30 p. m.

BARBER APPOINTED AS SUBSTITUTE CARRIER

Morris Hogan, Ottawa barber, will act as a substitute at the Ottawa postoffice while members of the regular force are enjoying their vacations.

He will begin his duties Monday. More than a month will be consumed by the time all employes receive their respite from work.

METHODS SUGGESTED FOR ELIMINATION OF THISTLES

Two methods are suggested at the Putnam-co Farm bureau office for control of Canadian thistles. A flood of requests regarding the proper manner of handling obnoxious plants has led Farm Agent Henceroth to suggest their destruction either in small patches or in field areas of an acre or more.

For the first period, repeated cutting with a hoe and applications of salt, kerosene, gasoline or sulphuric acid to the cut stems will usually prove the best, he says. The treatment should be repeated as often as green leaves show above ground. Cutting alone will be sufficient if adhered to regularly, Henceroth declared.

$150,000 OFFERED FOR CITY HALL

J. I. Motter Presents High Bid to Commission

THREE TENDERS RECEIVED

Action is Delayed Until Meeting Next Monday

Three bids for the purchase of the old city hall were opened by Mayor Harold Cunningham and City Manager C. A. Bingham in the commission office at noon Tuesday, the highest bid being offered by J. I. Motter, local real estate man, which was $150,000. Motter enclosed a certified check for $15,000. The other bids were from J. E. Morris, R. T. Gregg and R. W. Parmenter, who offered to pay the city $127,500, and the third bid from Michael and Fishel, whose offer was for $105,000.

Mayor Cunningham ordered that the bids be tabulated and that they be submitted to the city commission at the next meeting which is next Monday night.

The bid of Motter represents the payment of $1,500 per front foot for the city hall property, it having a frontage of 100 feet on High-st. The building extends back about 50 feet.

CHECKS ENCLOSED

Each bidder enclosed a certified check for 10 per cent of the total amount, and each offered to pay the balance upon receipt of the deed to the property, and that the building be vacated on or before January 1, 1924.

Motter, the highest bidder, intimated shortly after the bids were opened that providing the city commission agrees to sell the city hall, he would immediately raze the present building and begin construction of a 10-story modern business block, containing stores and offices. The proposed building, according to Motter, would not only be the largest but the most beautiful building in this section of the state.

VICTORY WON BY UNION LABOR

Right to Picketing Upheld by Ohio Supreme Court

COLUMBUS— (Associated Press) —Union labor won a victory in the state supreme court today when by affirming the lower courts of Lucas-co. the right to peaceful picketing was upheld in an appeal brought by the La France Electrical Construction and Supply Co., of Toledo, against picketing by the International Brotherhood of Electrical Workers' local No. 8, the Plasterers' local and the Lathers' local and their officers.

The common pleas court at first granted a temporary injunction against acts of violence and later a temporary injunction against picketing and inducing employes to break their contracts. The second injunction later was vacated and upon final hearing the common pleas court found against the La France company. The case then came on for hearing on its merits, the common pleas court granted injunction against the Electricians, but the injunction did not restrain picketing or peaceful persuasion.

The court of appeals affirmed the finding of the common pleas court and the supreme court now gives its stamp of approval. The trouble grew out of a strike early in 1920.

DEFRAUDERS MAY BE JAILED

Criminal Action Planned in Veterans' Bureau Cases

WASHINGTON — (Associated Press) — Some of the evidence gathered in the senate committee investigation of the Veterans' Bureau has been turned over to the department of justice for possible criminal action against the individuals involved.

The charges so far laid before the attorney general relate to alleged frauds in connection with dental work in veterans' hospitals but it was indicated today that the justice department might be asked within a few weeks to take action also against certain persons connected with the purchase of hospital sites and other property by the bureau.

John F. O'Ryan counsel for the committee said today that "what seemed to be unconscionable prices" had been paid in some instances for hospital supplies, and that a definite decision would be reached within a few days as to the feasibility of criminal proceedings against those responsible.

WORK NOT DONE

The evidence bearing on alleged dental frauds, O'Ryan said, concerned seven or eight persons and had to do with charges that dentists had in some cases induced veterans to sign receipts for dental services which never had been performed.

The committee's representatives are now engaged in investigating locally every hospital, vocational training school and other institutions of the Veterans' Bureau and contract institutions as well. Evidence of graft, selfishness and incompetence, O'Ryan said, is being found here and there in connection with vocational training schools and is being turned over to Director Hines of the bureau for action.

"LOVE BUNGALOW"

Sheriff Investigates Alleged Illegal Place

Investigation of an alleged "love bungalow" in Sugar-st, north of Findlay-rd, outside the city limits was launched Tuesday by Sheriff Crosson.

Complaints made by neighbors of disturbances created by parties held in the lonely house caused attention of authorities to be focused on the place.

Officers who investigated Tuesday, found many empty bottles, they assert which once contained gin, whisky and wine. Other bottles found contained from a spoonful to a pint of beverage.

Several rooms were fitted up for sleeping quarters in comfortable, tho not luxurious style. Tables for card playing were stacked in one room. A stove and cooking utensils were found in the kitchen, officers state.

The shades at the windows were closely drawn. Several partly filled bottles of whiskey and gin were seized as evidence.

Two persons a man and a woman, were nabbed near the house by deputy sheriffs Sunday night, it was learned. They were relaesd after being questioned.

Arrests may follow in the case, Sheriff Crosson declared Tuesday.

QUESTIONNAIRES OUT

More than 1500 questionairres went from the office of H. J. Ridge county agent, Tuesday, to farmers of the county. They cover a survey of wheat conditions of the county.

PRESIDENT WILL RECEIVE FLYERS

To Congratulate MacReady, Kelly in Behalf of Nation

DAYTON — (Associated Press) — Back home among friends and bhother officers, among those who saw them rise to fame thru record-breaking achievements in mastery of the air, Lieutenants John A. MacReady and Oakley G. Kelly today were awaiting flying orders to proceed to Washington, where President Harding will bestow upon them congratulations in behalf of the nation.

Dayton citizenry bowed at the feet of her "boys" last night.

At a testimonial dinner attended by 1,500 men and women, Lieutenant Kelly told of their record-breaking non-stop flight from New York to San Diego. Other speakers included Senator S. D. Fess and Congressman Roy G. Fitzgerald. The dinner was sponsored by the Dayton American Legion.

ARRIVAL AT DAYTON

The aviators, flying the record holding T-2, landed at McCook Field at 8:15 last night, coming from Scott Field, Illinois. Half an hour later they were ushered into Memorial Hall where the crowd arose and cheered for several minutes. MacReady was presented with a loving cup by fellow members of the Y. M. C. A. Both were given huge bouquets of flowers.

Prior to the arrival of the flyers Dayton people witnessed a spectacular air circus, staged by McCook and Wilbur Wright Field pilots. Yesterday afternoon was declared a holiday by proclamation of Mayor Hale and many persons visited the two flying fields.

MONEY OUTLOOK IS DECLARED GOOD

Business Prospects Commented on by B. C. Forbes

INDEBTEDNESS LARGELY CUT

Purchasing Power of Workers Greatest in History

(BY B. C. FORBES)

NEW YORK — (Special) —At Coney Island and other places of amusement there are usually rigged up large mirrors, one of which makes you look extraordinarily fat and the other extraordinarily thin. You have your choice these days of looking at similar business mirrors; one reflects business as very fine and fat, the other depicts business as having become thin and scraggy. As "barkers" some times shout "you can pay your money and take your choice."

Which should be your choice?

* * *

Optimists can and do emphasize such developments as these:

The stock market in the last few days regained a third of its total decline since the high level of the year.

The bond market shows stamina and strength.

The railroads continue to be swamped with a record-breaking volume of freight.

America's imports, reflecting unprecedented purchasing power, are exceeding exports to an extent not paralleled in half-a-century.

The steel industry is working as near capacity as the labor supply will permit, and Judge Gary, in a cheerful speech, emphasizes that there are enough unfilled orders on hand to keep steel mills busy thru the current year.

Automobile production has been eclipsing all previous records and price advances are beginning to be announced by some companies.

Cotton has just been enjoying spectacular recovery.

Wheat is not far from the best quotations of the year and corn has been advancing.

Sugar and coffee moved up during the week.

Copper is now held at 15 3-4 cents a pound.

Of 59 commodity price changes recorded last week by Dun's, 37 represented advances.

The Federal Reserve authorities, in giving assurance that no increase in rediscount rates is contemplated, declare that their investigations reveal that "business is progressing conservatively and on a round basis."

The organ of the raw wool market states that "The manufacturing situation seems to be clearing a bit as regards cancellations."

Retail merchants proclaim that the only thing needed to boom their business is a spell of real summer weather.

Most commentators emphasize the abatement of the recent tendency towards undue speculative ordering in many lines of business.

And the absence of all signs of unwarranted "inflation" in the latest bank returns is much and favorably commented upon.

* * *

That is the picture you see when you look into one mirror.

* * *

What do long-faced people see:

Here are a few of the things they emphasize:

The building boom is face to face with a crisis precipitated by the ceaseless demands of labor and high prices for raw materials.

A Fall River despatch reads: "In continuance of the program of curtailment in the cotton mills in this city the Strafford, Troy and Tecumseh mills have closed for the remainder of this week and all of next week. Several others, including the American Linen, Ancona, Flint and Laurel Lake, are shut down for the last days of this week. A large number of mills are operating only part of their machinery for a full week, certain departments being shut down in some cases. Mills with orhers on hand are operating their looms to full capacity." And from other centers come reports of similar tenor.

Relatively few new orders are being placed for steel products.

Farmers are still disgruntled over the prices their products bring.

General Motors announces a let-up in production.

Raw silk has dropped in price, and Fall ordering of goods has become rather timid.

A fresh rise in sugar may, it is feared, incite widespread dissatisfaction among the public.

Says Bradstreet's:

"Trade, crops and industry present a more irregular, in fact, spotty condition, with, on the whole, a shade more activity in retail trade, but with less driving force visible in several lines of industry." Also, "more of quiet in new buying of woolens is reported in large lines, with rumors of some slowing down of operations. The apparel trades as a whole in primary lines, are, in fact, quieter."

General business sentiment is described as hesitant, not to say apprehensive.

As September approaches, more concern is expressed over possible political developments, including bonus agitation, anti-railroad activities, international complications, "easy money" clamor, and presidential campaign unsettlement.

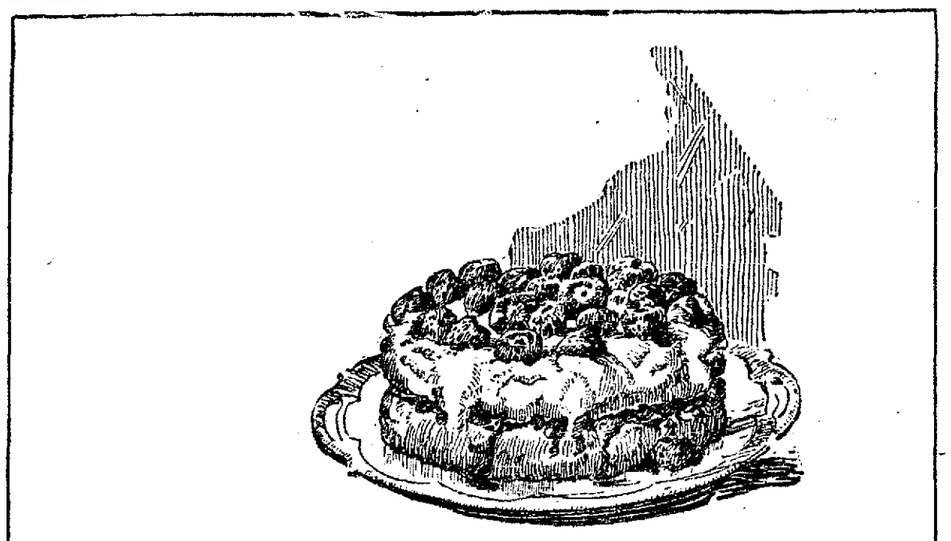

* * *

With this unbiased chronicle before you, you can proceed to draw your own deductions.

* * *

For my part, I refuse to become alarmed. I regard current conditions as distinctly more healthy than were the feverish conditions of March. Production has overtaken demand in most directions, but there are no dangerous accumulations of stocks on hand, the purchasing power and the actual purchasing of the working classes are greater than ever before in the nation's history, industrial and business indebtedness to banks has been gratifyingly liquidated, the monetary outlook is most reassuring outside of the building trades and conduct of labor is quite reasonable, the railroads are doing moderately well, any political maneuvers regarded as harmful to business and workers are not likely to prove popular with the majority of the people, and whatever changes come in Europe promise to be in the direction of rehabilitation rather than chaos.

MOVING THE NATION'S COMMERCE

ENEMIES of the railroads have asserted that they are decrepit, broken down and unable to function adequately. Nothing could be more untrue.

The railroads of the United States constitute an unrivaled monument to American genius. They are incomparably the finest, the best equipped and most efficiently operated in the world. They are successfully moving today the greatest volume of traffic in their history.

But the need for greatly enlarged transportation facilities to care for the constantly expanding commerce of the nation is urgent and immediate. American railroads recognize that need and have organized to meet it.

On the part of the Pennsylvania Railroad System it involves the expenditure in 1923 of approximately $100,000,000 for new facilities—improvements and additions—including the sum of $52,000,000 for new engines and cars alone.

This vast expenditure was decided upon in the face of the present high cost of material and operation because the Pennsylvania Railroad System—in performing a national service—is confident of the co-operation and support of the American people.

TUBERCULOSIS ON WANE IN OHIO

Decline in Number of Deaths Noted in Allen-co

STATISTICS ARE RECEIVED

"Stay in Ohio and Be Cured," Sutter's Advice

Deaths from tuberculosis in Ohio have been on the wane since 1918, according to statistics received Tuesday at the office of Dr. J. J. Sutter, county health commissioner.

Similar decline in number of deaths from this cause has characterized conditions in Allen-co. This condition is due, Dr. Sutter stated, to the fact that the public has become better educated in methods of handling the disease.

A total of 5,125 deaths in the state in 1922 resulted from tuberculosis. In 1910 there were 7,179 deaths. Had this rate continued, the number of deaths last year would have attained a total of 9,064. The death rate in the state reached its peak in 1918, due to complications with influenza, but has decreased each year since then.

Information on the treatment of tuberculosis has advanced within the past few years, Dr. Sutter stated. It was formerly the firm belief of the medical profession that the only cure for the disease was the arid climate of the west. Consequently the west became overcrowded with health seekers without sufficient funds to support themselves.

150,000 ANNUALLY

In 1921 there were in the state, 47,493 active cases of tuberculosis, statistics indicate. The death rate over the entire country averaged 150,000 annually, with a million suffering from an active stage of the disease.

"Stay in Ohio and be cured," is the advice of Dr. Sutter. He strongly urges that Allen-co residents suffering from the disease should not undertake a trip west unless they have sufficient funds to live without working and are so constituted emotionally that absence from home will not worry them.

"The importance of sunlight and air cannot be over estimated," Dr. Sutter declared. "It is impossible for the tuberculosis germ to survive in the dirct rays of the sun. Freedom from work and worry are also essential to recovery. If persons with active cases of tuberculosis would stay at home and take as good care of themselves as they do when they go west, they would recover equally as well."

Death rate from tuberculosis in the county decreased. 115 deaths in 1919 and 106 and 78 in '20 and '21 respectively.

THE PILL HOLD-UP

THIS actually happened and is well worth telling.

The drug clerk was just about to close up. It was getting late. The last policeman to rub his nose against the plate glass window, was far down the avenue when the clerk switched off the electric lights and turned the lock. Then it all happened.

A man rushed up to the door. "Say, man, I want a box of Beecham's Pills. Simply must have them!" he exclaimed. "Store's closed for the day," remarked the clerk as he pocketed the key. "Like thunder it is!" shouted the late comer, "I've got to have a box of Beecham's Pills tonight." The altercation grew heated. There was an exchange of blows.

Then the clerk took off his broken glasses, unlocked the door and handed out a 50 cent box of Beecham's Pills.

Can you beat it?

Beecham's Pills are so pleasantly effective in making sick stomachs well, sluggish livers active, and lazy bowels to function as they should, that Beecham's steadfast friends and supporters sometimes overflow with strenuous enthusiasm.

As a User of Rubber Goods of any description ~ You owe it to yourself to know why the United States Rubber Company established its own Rubber Plantations in the Far East

This is one of the young trees on the United States Rubber Company's plantations in Sumatra.

The United States Rubber Plantations cover 172 square miles in Sumatra and on the Malay Peninsula. 110,000 acres—a veritable Garden of 5,000,000 Rubber Trees. From these Plantations comes the Rubber Latex—the milky liquid from the rubber tree—for the new SPRAYED RUBBER which, with the new WEB CORD, and the new FLAT-BAND METHOD of building a Cord Tire, constitute the new Art of Rubber Manufacture developed by the United States Rubber Company.

SOME fifteen years ago, the United States Rubber Company foresaw the need for ensuring its own adequate supply of crude rubber.

The Company realized that in order to live up to its leadership, it could no longer rely on the usual market grades for its crude rubber supply. So it started its own rubber plantations.

One hundred and seventy-two square miles of gently rolling ground, rich and fertile almost beyond belief, were bought in Sumatra and on the Malay Peninsula. The climate moist, but with rainfall evenly distributed. Protected from the winds, and with a temperature that never falls below 70 degrees F.

Today on these 172 square miles of rich tropical soil there are 5,000,000 rubber trees—"pedigreed stock"—each a Hevea Braziliensis, grown in the plantation nurseries from carefully selected stock.

"U. S." Plantations Fifteen Years Old

These plantations have now been in bearing for more than ten years. (It takes five years from the time of planting before the tree is tapped for latex. From then on the yield increases yearly.)

This ownership and control enables the Company to obtain from its own properties a constantly increasing supply of crude rubber. And what is even more important, to obtain rubber of uniform quality, especially adapted to its own requirements.

Here, then, for the benefit of all users of "U.S." Rubber Goods, is a sure source of rubber latex of the very finest quality.

For "U. S." Products Exclusively

Thousands of tons of pure rubber are produced every year — for United States Rubber Company products exclusively:

"U. S." Rubber Footwear—"U. S." Royal Cord Tires—Keds—Spring-Step Rubber Heels—"U. S." Royal Golf Balls—Waterbottles, Gloves, Tubing, and other surgical and household rubber goods—Raynster Raincoats—"U. S." Rubber Hose—"U. S." Belting, Packing and Gaskets—Naugahyde Luggage—Paracore Insulated Wire—Radio Parts, Battery Jars, and other hard rubber goods.

All bearing the celebrated "U. S." Mark of Leadership.

* * *

Now comes the development of three new and basic contributions to rubber manufacture by the United States Rubber Company—

The New Sprayed Rubber
The New Web Cord
The New Flat-Band Method of Building a Cord Tire

Of these three discoveries, Sprayed Rubber and the Web Cord depend absolutely on a sure supply of pure rubber latex.

SPRAYED RUBBER is the new scientific process of obtaining crude rubber from the latex.

It produces uniformly pure rubber—with all the natural qualities of the latex, including many that were impaired by the older processes. Sprayed Rubber is the first to be free of both acids and smoke residues. It is dry and pure.

* * *

WEB CORD is based on the discovery that the rubber latex has a strong natural affinity for cotton cord.

The Web Cord is the first true rubber-webbed sheet of cotton cord, impregnated throughout with pure rubber. It has none of the old cross tie-threads such as all other cord fabric has. No chemical solutions of rubber are used.

The FLAT-BAND METHOD of building Cord Tires is equally revolutionary. Royal Cord tires are now built on a flat drum, and then inflated and vulcanized with the elastic pressure of a gas in direct contact with the inner surface.

By this method, the cords are all laid and kept at the scientific angle, they are of precisely the right length, and each bears its own proportionate share of the load.

A cord tire that fulfills, at last, the conception of what a cord tire should be and do.

* * *

Taken together, these three discoveries constitute a new art and science of rubber manufacture—of outstanding benefit to every consumer, merchant and producer of rubber articles of any description.

Rubber Latex for SPRAYED RUBBER and WEB CORD is brought from the Company's Far East plantations in steamers' tanks. When it arrives here it is pumped into tank cars and so transported by rail to the Company's factories.

MEMORIAL DAY

TOMORROW will witness the annual recurrence of Memorial Day, more popularly known as Decoration Day. It is an occasion sacred to the memory of America's brave fighting men who lie in the cemeteries of America and Europe and also those whose bodies were buried at sea.

Patriotic societies, embracing the G. A. R., the Spanish-American War veterans, members of the American Legion and kindred bodies will make their annual pilgrimage to the last resting places of those who gave their lives that America might live, strewing flowers and conducting solemn ceremonies in love and reverence.

More than half a century has elapsed since the Civil war. Soon after the carnage had ceased and the roll of drum was heard no more as the tocsin of war, the Grand Army of the Republic was formed and by national enactment, May 30 each year was set aside as a time for the recounting the deeds of valor of American heroes and to renew allegiance at the shrine of patriotism.

It is the occasion for the reconsecration of endeavor toward instilling in the hearts and minds of the people the spirit of the men who died for America. The flame of patriotism bursts forth anew. The cause for which many thousands of our brave boys died in the World war has not prevailed. Those who survived the horrors of armed conflict have been unable too accomplish the tasks bequeathed to them by those who fell. World peace so much desired and which was confidently expected as a result of that horror has not been realized.

The world is a seething cauldron of discontent, of restlessness. There is danger in the future for our own country as well as those of foreign soil. Adherence to American ideals and devotion to the memory of our hero dead are safeguards that are necessary.

All America on Memorial Day will pause in tribute to the soldiers living and dead. The choicest of flowers will garland the graves of those who are asleep in death; all honor to those who still live among us.

SUNDAY AUTO ACCIDENTS

CARELESS automobile drivers are helping give Blue Monday a more pronounced indigo hue each week. Monday newspapers always tell a sad story. Dozens of lives are snuffed out each Sunday. All because someone was careless.

Yesterday we saw an automobile bearing an Ohio license tag with the number well over the 700,000 mark. We remember a few years ago when "Jimmy" Cox, then governor, applied for license tag 99,999. The secretary of state, fearing that the issue would not reach that mark for the year, and would leave a gap between the number given Cox and the next highest, demurred, but issued the tag as requested. That was less than nine years ago, and serves to show the wonderful growth of the automobile industry.

Autos are a necessity. The fault is rarely with them, when accidents occur, but with the drivers. Properly handled, they are less dangerous than the old family horse. If the more than 700,000 drivers in Ohio would each appoint himself a committee to encourage safer driving, then the death toll would dwindle and less sadness would result.

THE GAMBLING BAN AGAIN

ONCE more the lid has been clamped on all forms of gambling in Lima and Allen-co, this time at the instance of the governor of the state. The little baseball pool, which has been sold so promiscuously here as well as in every other city, will go and with it will go the dice and card games from cigar stores.

The governor's proclamation followed the discovery by him that his son, aged 10, had invested a dollar in baseball pools and had lost. An investigation followed and then an order so sweeping that all devices which dealers call trade stimulators must be banned. Officials of Lima and Allen-co are to be complimented for the prompt application of Governor Donahey's order in this community.

It'd be a lot better for a great many stomachs and nerves if the export also took the quantity now going into the cellars.

HIGH LIFE AND BLOOD PRESSURE

Mind, old dears, high blood pressure occurs without any tendency to hardening of the arteries and hardening of the arteries is not necessarily accompanied by high blood pressure. But given a state of chronic or long enduring high blood pressure or hypertension, if examination of the victim does not disclose a chronic nephritis the arteries are pretty sure to be diseased. Even that it be a long time, years and years, coming, when one has an abnormally high blood pressure constantly and the pressure fails to return to or near the normal and remain there after reasonable and proper regulation of the habits of life, one may as well count himself a subject of C. V. D. and endeavor to cultivate the hygienic life.

Cardio-Vascular Degeneration has a grisly mournful sound, but it might be worse. Heart artery wearing out too early in life; that is all. High living, wrong living, neglect of the fundamental laws of health, must be reckoned among the usual causes of hardening of the arteries, and of the various expressions of cardiovascular degeneration — chronic nephritis, apoplexy, heart muscle impairment—general breakdown if you prefer to evade the unpleasant truth—overwork if you like to deceive yourself or the unsophisticated public. The hygienic life is the life one wishes to lead when he discovers the life one has been leading is not likely to last much longer.

The toxins of several infectione diseases, such as pneumonia and typhoid fever, as well as that of syphilis, are now recognized as common factors of arterial degeneration. Moderate indulgence in alcoholic beverages is a direct cause of hardening of the arterics. The sin of overeating so prevalent among the prosperous middleclass and the poor is on a par with alcohol poisoning as a cause of ateriosclerosis.

The stress and strain of business life, the rush and bustle and the nervous tension under which some folks like to imagine they live are all just callow boasting. Then, too we resort to this conceit of living under "high tension" for the same reason that the poor victim of the neurasthenia obsession has a "nervous spell" or a "breakdown" or some such convenient alibi when it is necessary to dodge some duty or responsibility in life. This "spell" or "breakdown" is as unintentional or involuntary as is a hysterical seizure, so far as conscious volition is concerned.

Chronic lead poisoning, in painters, printers and others occupationally exposed, causes hardening of the arteries. The ancients included gout among the causes of hardening of the arteries—whatever gout might have been.

The main hardening agent, in the majority of cases, seems to be intemperance in eating—eating more than is necessary for maintenance. The badge of intemperance is overweight. We positively will not work, meaning honest work, not just playing around the office or store. It is vulgar to sweat in polite company but it is quite the proper thing to eat too much. A little more honest sweating and a little less overworking of the eating muscle would mean much for the conservation of the arteries.

JUST FOLKS By Edgar A. Guest

A GARDEN

A little garden is the sign
That man believes in God above,
And for the lovely things and fine
Has room within his heart for love.

I never see a pansy bed
Or rose in blossom in a yard,
A tulip with a yellow head,
But that house kindly I regard.

There dwells a man, I tell myself,
Who trains a summer vine to climb;
Despite the age's strife for pelf,
For beauty here he still has time.

Let cynics sneer that men are base
And sordid seekers after gold,
A little garden is the place
Where man's affections we behold.

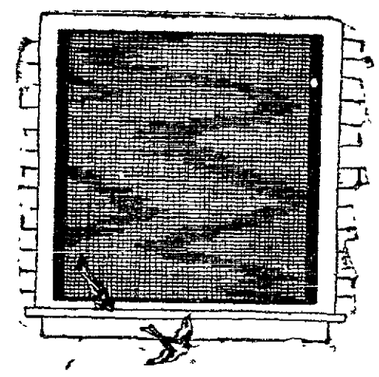

A little garden bright with bloom,
With all the beauty that it brings,
Is proof that someone's heart has room
To cherish nature's lovely things.

A Preference for Federal Bonds

There is no denying the fact that there actually is a very strong and growing preference for "Federal" first mortgage real estate bonds.

Simply hundreds upon hundreds of investors in Michigan and throughout the rest of the country believe that Federal First Mortgage Real Estate Serial Gold Bonds are the very best securities they can possibly secure for investment.

Our own aim and intent from the very outset of this company years ago has been to earn for "Federal" bonds just that precise reputation.

We made up our minds at the start that "Federal" should be known as the best bonds.

Every bond issue that we have brought forth has been based upon that principle.

A Banquet That Was Almost A Tragedy

"Three years ago at a banquet I was stricken with acute indigestion. Two doctors worked over me for an hour before I came to. I had had severe colic attacks before, but nothing like that. No doctors or medicine gave me permanent help uptil a friend, who was at the banquet, advised me to take a course of Mayr's Wonderful Remedy, which I did with wonderful results." IN LIMA PLAYHOUSES

BY GERTRUDE GILLHAM

"Environment" Is Film of Unusual Interest

ALICE LAKE'S latest picture, "Environment," written by Harvey Gates, is a photoplay of unusual interest, for it is a drama containing all the elements which make for popularity and yet which does not put a strain upon credulity. It is the Sigma's attraction until Saturday.

"Environment" is the story of a girl crook who has been reared in Chicago's underworld—a girl who has never had a chance. She is content to follow the pathway of crime because it is the easiest way. Then suddenly she is brought in sharp contact with the country—with it's simple, quiet virtues. And Chicago Sal's redemption is in sight.

The author and director have smashed the conventions in their development of the story at this point. The usual procedure is to show the redemption of a crook occurring early in the action, but it is merely indicated here. The girl realizes her utter worthlessness during her probation of the farm and so she returns to the city and crime. The hero is broken-hearted and the girl endeavors to forget. But can she? Love doesn't work that way.

Once again in the old environment Chicago Sal participates in more than one crime. Steve follows her and unfortunately joins her at the moment the police breake into her apartment. Her political association keeps her immune from arrest, but Steve is arrested and sentenced to prison for three months. It is then that she learns to appreciate his overpowering love and accepts him.

The climax presents a thrilling touch of a city fire—with the hero emerging from prison in time to rescue his mother and adopted boy from the flames which are soaring thru the girl's apartment. And so they all leave for the country and crime is forgotten. The clean environment brings her a real redemption.

It is a photodrama replete with action and suspense and gives ample opportunity for Alice Lake's abilities as an emotional actress. In the supporting casts are Milton Sills, Gertrude Claire, Ralph Lewis and little Richard Headrick.

"When Love Comes" to Appear at Lyric Soon

HELEN Jerome Eddy, long prominent on the screen, is elevated to stardom well merited in her first big independent production, "When Loves Comes" scheduled for exhibition at the Lyric next week.

Miss Eddy has attained success by reversing the usual order of things. First, she violated all precedents by being born in New York and going to the west coast to find success rather than making some point west of the Hudson her original stopping place and moving eastward. She showed a decided aptitude for story writing at an early age and soon made her debut as a scenario writer. Since entering the movies she has been remembered for her favorable work in "The Turn in the Road," "One Man in a Million," "The Country Fair" and many others too numerous to mention.

The story of "When Love Comes" concerns the experiences of a youth and a maid, the former of which lacks the courage to propose to the idol of his heart when the opportunity presented. Fate separated them and carried them different ways. The years brought unhappiness and adventure. Then Fate intervened again and they were both swept toward the heights by the current of Love reborn. It is a straightforward and convincing romance without the mawkish sentimentality that mars many films of a romantic character. The plot is worked out logically.

In the cast that supports Miss Eddy are Harrison Ford, Fannie Midgley, Claire Dubray Buddy Messinger and others.

SUSIE SMART'S ADVICE

Dear Miss Smart:

MAY I have your frank opinion on a question? I am a divorced woman with children. My husband married an old girl friend of mine and I surely hate them both now. He for his untruthfulness and she for her disloyalty to a friend. Now, they have been coming to call on the babies and me. It makes me so provoked and nervous for a week afterward to have them come. I realize that as long as he pays alimony for their support, he can make reasonable visits, but I'd like to tell her the next time she comes, which will be next Sunday I suppose, that I want her to stay away. Mother says I ought not to do it, but I don't stay at home since my trouble, I couldn't feel like it was proper to take the little ones home for Mother and Dad. Mother would want to keep them, while I work and I feel as tho she has had her share of work, when she raised we four children. Mother, Dad and I go back and forth and are the best of friends, but she isn't tied down. Tell me what you think of me and what you would do in my place. Thank you kindly for your patience in reading this.

A FRIEND.

WHY not avoid dispute and trouble by leaving the room when they call? That could hardly be called "impolite," if you do not care for either of them. If you are able to work and still keep up a home for the children, I think that is best. You are fortunate in having your mother and father near you so that you may enjoy each other's company.

* * *

Dear Miss Smart:

I am 14 years old and would like to know if I could become a show girl or go in the movies. Where would I go to start? I have blue eyes, brown hair, am four feet two in height and weight 120 pounds. I am in the first grade of high school.

How is my writing?

N. N.

Try and forget your desire to go into the movies or on the stage. You are entirely too young; the law requires that you remain in school until you are 16. Girls as young as you are are not needed in the theatrical world. Wait until you have completed high school at least.

Not very good.

Little Talks on GOITRE by SANO-BARK L.C. COLUMBUS, OHIO

A medical examination is not necessary for you to determine whether you have Goitre or not. You can find out for yourself by this simple method.

"Stand before the mirror, slightly elevate the chin and then swallow, at the same time watch closely the action of the throat. If at a point about ½ inch above what is commonly known as the hollow in the throat there appears to be a slight lump which moves up and down during the act, THAT IS GOITRE IN ITS PRELIMINARY STAGE.

"That is the beginning of the enlargement of the center lobe of the Thyroid Gland which is being caused by the deranged condition of the Ductless Glands and the impure condition of the blood."

Occasionally, but not often, there is an exception to this rule. Goitre saps the energy and vitality of youth, brings discord and heart aches to the homes, and takes its toll by the thousands every year. Order the SANO-BARK Treatment from your druggist TODAY. If he cannot supply you, write direct to SANO-BARK Laboratories, Columbus, O. DON'T PUT IT OFF.

FLOWING GOLD

By REX BEACH

BEGIN HERE TODAY

Calvin Gray, staying in Dallas at the most expensive hotel, is the invited enemy of Colonel Henry Nelson, banker. Gray is in love with Barbara Parker, daughter of Tom Parker. Gus Briskow, friend of Gray, takes Ma Briskow and daughter, Allegheny, to the mountains. Allie has a tutor, Mrs. Ring, also a professor to teach her dancing. The dancing master kisses Allie, who becomes enraged and throws him from a window. The hotel manager orders the Briskows from the hotel, but Calvin Gray arrives in time to arrange for the family to remain.

NOW GO ON WITH THE STORY

CHAPTER XVI

Plots and Counter Plots

From the day of their first meeting, Henry Nelson and Calvin Gray had clashed. No two people could be more different in disposition and temper, hence it was only natural that every characteristic, every action of the one should have aroused the other's antagonism.

Following the departure of his three callers on that day of the meeting in the bank, Nelson closed his desk and went home. He could work no more. For several days thereafter he was an unpleasant person to do business with.

After cautious deliberation Henry sent word to one of his men in the Ranger field that he wished to see him.

The man came promptly, and when he left Henry Nelson's house after a conference he carried with him a perfectly clear idea why he had been sent for. This despite the fact that he had not been told in so many words.

So much accomplished, Nelson went to Dallas and there undertook to learn something about the size of Calvin Gray's profits, who was behind him and the extent of their backing, and what his prospects were.

When he returned home Gray was gone, whither he could not learn. As the days passed without further developments, Nelson began to believe that he had had a bad dream and that Gray had merely been talking to hear his own voice. He devoutly hoped that such would prove to be the case.

A time came, however, when his apprehensions were aroused afresh, and it was Barbara Parker who rekindled them. She had come to the bank with an excellent proposition and was doing her best to sell it; in the course of her conversation she referred to Gray in a manner that gave Nelson cause for thought.

"I've looked this lease over," Bob" was saying, "and I've seen the books. It has been producing a hundred and fifty barrels a day steadily. Production like that is cheap at a thousand dollars a barrel. It is worth a hundred and fifty thousand dollars, Henry."

Why is it offered for seventy-five?"

"Bob" shrugged. "How did a 'boll weevil' like this Jackson ever make even a hundred-and-fifty-barrel well, in the first place? Where did he get the money to drill? He is sick of the game, I suppose, and would be satisfied to get his money back with a reasonable profit. It is a find, really."

"Looks so, for a fact. How did you get on to it 'Bob'?"

"Purely by a chance. Thru a man named Mallow, a 'scientist' of some sort with a magic tester." The girl laughed.

"Don't know him."

"Mallow is as queer as the rest of his kind, and I put no faith in his story until I investigated. But the well is there and doing a hundred and fifty barrels as regular as clockwork."

"You'll have no trouble in selling it."

"Then you're not interested?"

"Interested? Yes, indeed." Nelson nodded. I'm quite excited, as a matter of fact, but—I can't handle it at this particular time."

"Frankly, I'm glad you can't," Barbara told him, "for now I can sell it to Mr. Gray."

"He's buying and selling, is he? He said something about entering this field in a big way—"

"He's in." "Bob's" eyes were sparkling. "Oh, things are looking up for dad and me. Mr. Gray is a real miracle man, isn't he?" When this question evoked no response, the girl inquired, curiously, "Tell me, are you and he such good friends as he says you are?"

"WE'RE IN DEEP, 'BOB.' AWFULLY DEEP."

"Does he say we are good friends?"

"Um-m—well, he speaks admiringly of you, and if people admire me I love them. He thinks you are a remarkably capable person. A determined fighter,' I think he called you. That should be high praise, coming from a fellow officer. He probably outlined his plan to you."

"He did," Nelson spoke dryly.

"I assumed that he was relying on your judgment and taking your tips."

"Why? How so?"

"Because he has bought so much land alongside of yours?"

"Where?"

Barbara was surprised. "I—why, I supposed you knew." After a moment of hesitation she said: "I think I'd better keep my mouth closed. Just the same, he couldn't have done better than to follow your lead. That is the first compliment I ever paid you, Henry."

"I've paid you enough. And I do believe in you, 'Bob,' but I'm not the flattering kind. He's a great ladies' man. I wonder if he is going to make me jealous."

"You? Jealous? Coming from Wichita's most emotionless banker, from the cold country Croesus, that speech is almost a—a declaration." Miss Parker laughed frankly. "Why, Henry! My haughtd little nose is turning up—I can feel it. But, alas! It proves your insincerity. If you had faith in my judgment you'd pick up this snap."

With some hesitation the man said: "We're in deep, 'Bob.' Awfully deep! That's the worst of this oil game, it takes so much money to protect your holdings. It doesn't pay to prospect land for the benefit of your neighbor; the risks are too great. Gray has been pretty attentive to you, hasn't he?"

"That's a part of the man; he is attentive to everybody. I have received more candy and flowers and delightful little surprises than in all my short, neglected life."

"I didn't know you liked candy,"

"I dont. But I adore getting it. The thought counts. I don't care much for canaries, either—I have such bad luck with them—but he sent me the dearest thing from New York. A tiny mechanical bird with actual feathers. And it sings! It is a really truly yellow canary in a beautiful gold cage, and when you press a spring it perks its head, opens its beak, flirts its tail, and utters the most angelic song. It must have cost a fortune. Couldn't you love a man who would think of a present like that?"

When she had gone Nelson sat in a frowning study for some time. So it was not all a bad dream. What could be Gray's object in buying acreage adjoining his? Was it faith in his, Nelson's, judgment, a desire to ride to success on the tail of his enemey's kite, or did it mean a war of offsets, drilling operations the instant a well came in?

In and around the office of McWade & Stoner these were busy days what with a couple of new wildcat promotions and a well going down on semiproven ground—that lease which cornered into the Nelson holdings, and to which Stoner had called attention. It had been easy to sell stock in the latter enterprise, and now the deeper went the hole, the higher rose the hopes of the promoters. Stoner himself was directing operations, and he had named the well "Avenger Number One."

CHAPTER XVII

Buddy Breaks the Traces

To learn that her mountain retreat had been invaded and that she had been spied upon filled Ma Briskow with dismay, but when Allie found fault with her behavior the elder woman burned with resentment.

"We're queer enough," the girl said, "without you cutting up crazy and making folks talk. If you want to dance for goodness' sake hire somebody to lear—to teach you, same as I did. What was you up to the other day? That Delamater man said you was acting plumb nutty."

"Mind your own business!" the old woman snapped. She flounced out of the room, leaving Allie amazed and indignant at this burst of temper.

That day Ma Briskow abandoned her mountain fastness. She took her faithful retainers with her and led them farther up the ravine to a retreat that was truly inaccessible.

The next day when she stealthily slipped out of her French window, she found Calvin Gray idly rocking on the veranda. He welcomed her appearance and pretended not to see her embarrassment at the meeting; he was glad of this chance for a visit with her alone. Perhaps she was going for a walk and would take him along?

But Ma flushed faintly, and for some time longer she refused her confidence. It didn't matter; nobody would understand. Gray was not insistent; nevertheless, before long they were on their way toward the glen. In a reckless burst of confidence Ma told him all about her hidden band of mountaineers.

He insisted upon making the personal acquaintance of those bold followers of hers and upon hearing the whole sad story of the Princess Pensacola. The history of her struggle against the wicked Duke of Dallas moved him; he wove new details of his own into it; and before Ma knew it he was actually playing the part of the duke.

The duke, it appeared, was a hard and haughty man, but at heart he was not all bad; when he had listened to the story of his victim's wrongs and more fully appreciated the courage, the devotion of her doughty followers, he was touched. He was a handsome man and no wickeder than the general run of dukes; he would make a becoming husband to the beauteous princess, and if she set her mind to it she could probably make a better person of him. Thus would the warring factions be united, thus would the blessings of peace descend—

The Tangle

An Intimate Story of Indiscretion Expressed in Private Letters

LETTER FROM JOHN ALDEN PRESCOTT TO HIS FRIEND SYDNEY CARTON.

DEAR SYD:

You are a friend. I'll tell the world. I didn't care what you called me after I saw the check. It made quite a substantial payment on my stock. In fact the dividend was much more than I expected, consequently I was able to give the firm the check for the full amount due from me.

Some way, Syd, I don't seem to realize yet, when I am away from Leslie, that I am married at all. I expect I shouldn't let a fascinating flapper fill my eys when I pass her on the street. I know I would be jealous as the devil of Leslie if I thought she were smiling at any man, young or old.

Habits are stronger than marital ethics, however, and I have a great sympathy for that old fellow who said, "The spirit is willing but the flesh is weak."

Then I am worried, I must own it, Syd, I am terribly worried over Faula Perrier. I don't mind telling you that those letters are rather compromising and lately she has been acting very queerly.

I wonder what Leslie would do if Paula should send them to her. (She laughingly promised to do so the other night if I neglected her.)

Sometimes I am ready to make a clean breast of it to my wife. I really should have done so the other night when Leslie, apropos to something we were talking about, said that she did not think either a husband or wife had any business with the other's past; all one could ask of the other was that the present and future be his or hers in like devotion, loyalty and trust.

I really should have told her then, but that very day that asinine florist had sent his bill to the house instead of my office and on it was the sixteen dollars he had stung me for a basket of flowers. I had sent it to Faula when she had written me a sad little letter saying she was sick and asking me to call upon her.

It seemed to me at that time that sixteen dollars was very little to pay for the privilege of staying away from her, but the notation that Leslie had put on the bottom of the bill, "The florist must have made a mistake. I have not received a basket of flowers." This put an entirely different complexion on the fool gift.

You could see, old scout, how much chance I would have had, after she had seen that bill, of making Leslie believe that I cared nothing more for Paula now when I told her of the tender passages between us before marriage and she had proof that I was still interested to the value of sixteen dollars.

Good Lord, Syd, I never dreamed that there were so many things that you had to look out for when you got married. A man has to "mind his I's and Q's" even with Leslie, who up to date has not shown any signs of being jealous.

I have a very decided notion how over, that when Mrs. Leslie Prescott decides Mr. John Prescott is paying the slightest personal attention to any other woman Mr. John Prescott' name will be "Dennis"

Then to cap the climax, I had a letter from mother the other day in which she plaintively asked me for money and lays it all to poor Leslie's extravagance that I have not sent her any since I married.

I know that is some of that old maid Bradford's dirty work.

Come on over and advise me, Syd. I am in a devil of a mixup.

JACK.

The prettier teeth that millions now enjoy

There is a way to prettier teeth, and millions of people have found it. To their homes has come a new dental era.

Not only whiter teeth, but cleaner, safer teeth—new protection, lifelong benefits to many. Results which all desire.

The way is at your call. Your dealer will give you a ten-day test. This is to urge that you accept it and learn what this method means.

Film makes teeth dingy

Your teeth are coated with a viscous film. Feel it with your tongue. It clings to teeth, enters crevices and stays.

No ordinary tooth paste effectively combats it. So, under old methods, much film remained; and 49 in 50 people suffered its effects.

Food stains, etc., discolor film. Then it forms dingy coats. Tartar is based on film. That is why teeth grow dingy.

Film also holds food substance which ferments and forms acid. It holds the acid in contact with the teeth to cause decay. That's why tooth troubles come.

Germs breed by millions in film. They, with tartar, are the chief cause of pyorrhea. And that is alarmingly common.

Now easy to combat

Dental science has sought ways to meet this situation. Two methods have been found. One acts to curdle film, one to remove it, and without any harmful scouring.

Able authorities proved these methods effective. Then a new-type tooth paste was created to apply them daily. That tooth paste is called Pepsodent. For years leading dentists all the world over have been urging its adoption. Now it is used by careful people of some 50 nations.

Old mistakes corrected

Research also proved that old-time tooth pastes did two things detrimental. They reduced the alkalinity of the saliva. That is there to neutralize mouth acids, the cause of tooth decay.

They reduced the starch digestant in the saliva. That is there to digest starch deposits which may otherwise ferment and form acids.

Pepsodent corrects those errors, and does more. It multiplies that alkalinity, multiplies that starch digestant. Thus every use gives manifold power to those great tooth-protecting agents in the mouth.

These results have brought to millions a new conception of what clean teeth mean. And the enemies of teeth are fought as they never were before.

For careful people

Pepsodent is for dainty people who want whiter, cleaner teeth. It is for careful people who want better tooth protection.

You meet them everywhere. You see glistening teeth wherever you look. Now we urge you to learn how folks get them.

Present the coupon for a 10-Day Tube. Note how clean the teeth feel after using. Mark the absence of the viscous film. See how teeth whiten as the film-coats disappear. Watch the other good effects.

Do this now. The test is delightful. Its results will be a revelation to you.

Avoid Harmful Grit

Pepsodent curdles the film and removes it without harmful scouring. Its polishing agent is far softer than enamel. Never use a film combatant which contains harsh grit.

BOUT IS GIVEN TO K. O. JEAKLE ON FOUL BLOW

(BY RICHARD A. THORNBURGH)

Lima fight fans were disappointed Monday evening when two bouts on the Lima Gym Club card at Memorial hall were stopped because of alleged low blows and another because of unevenly matched contestants.

K. O. Jeakle of Toledo, was given a decision over Bobby Ward of St. Paul in the sixth round of their scheduled 12-round affair, when Referee Maxwell ruled the Toledo man had been the victim of a foul blow.

There was a great deal of talk in the days leading up to the fight about Bobby Ward being matched with Bennie Leonard for June 17. Ward's manager claims he will fight Leonard, but neither he nor Jeakle showed enough class here to be even considered for such a mix.

Fans loudly protested the result of this fight by yells of "No, No!" and "Rotten, Rotten!"

The headline attraction wasn't the first disappointment of the evening, for in the semi-final match, Battling Jeakle, K. O.'s younger brother, won his fight when Johnny Lundy of Brooklyn quit in the seventh chapter, saying he had been injured by a low blow.

It seemed a question of quitting then or being carried out later, for Lundy, apparently aged and fat, couldn't have held up much longer against the blows of Jeakle.

In the two opening rounds of the Lundy-Jeakle fight, it seemed that the easterner would take the count at any time but he out-smarted his opponent for the next five rounds and held together. He improved steadily, but his age told on him toward the end. This was a scheduled 10 round fight.

The best fight on the evening's card was a draw between Young Ryle and Young Ferris, who fought four rounds. They were battling all the time, Ferris having the advantage of size and reach. This was overcome by Ryle, who slammed into his opponent time after time for good point-scoring blows.

In the opening round of the main attraction, Jeakle claimed he was hit low and stopped a minute to recover. Then the fight went on, neither one opening up to a great extent. The round was even.

Jeakle tried rushing tactics, but each time Ward managed to get just a fraction of an inch away from his gloves. This was the story of the entire six rounds. Jeakle swinging and missing and Ward playing a defensive game. Occasionally the St. Paul lightweight would uncork a blow or two, but he quickly went back to the defense.

Young Greb's manager was forced to toss in the towel in his bout with Young Tony as they were very unevenly matched. Greb was substituting for Young Andrews who couldn't make his weight.

Marshalls Will Play Here On Wednesday

Lima Marshalls will work for local fans for the first time in history when the St. Marys club invades Lima Wednesday morning for a game with the sporting goods men.

The Marshall team is a traveling nine, playing its games away from home and it was only because of the journey of the local nine to Delphos on Decoration Day, that the game here was planned.

CALLED AT 10 A. M.

St. Marys was originally scheduled to be played at that place but it was figured that a better crowd would turn out here.

The game will be called at 10 a. m., with Detrick of the Central high school, working the indicators.

Lineups for the Wednesday game follows:

Marshalls: Dickey, ss; Powell, 2b; Reynolds, lf; Murphy, cf; Smiley, 1b; Jehoske, 3b; Pillergrini, rf; Phillips, c; King, p; Ayers, utility.

St. Marys: Yeager, lf; Fidele, 1b; Snyder, 3b; Filse, ss; Doty, cf; Dugent, 2b; Griggs, rf; Burns, c; Kohler, p.

Reds Lose To Cards, 5 To 4

It was the under dog's day—a day of reversals — in the major leagues Monday for the teams that played, all the leaders except the New York Yankees receiving setbacks and the Yankees and five other American League clubs did not play.

The Philadelphia Athletics, after taking two out of three from the New York Yankees, were prey to the Boston Red Sox 8 to 6, and the lowly Philadelphia Quakers, perhaps the weakest team in either league, won a double header from the ambitious Boston Braves, 6 to 4, and 11 to 2.

Other reversals included that given Pittsburg by Chicago 5 to 4 in 11 innings.

St. Louis defeated Cincinnati 5 to 4 in 10 innings, making up ground lost to Pittsburg last week.

The hammer and tongs battle between Brooklyn and New York which the Robins won 8 to 7 was also a topsy turvy affair, the Giants having shown previously the most nearly impregnable front in either league. It was the fourth defeat in six starts for Jack Bentley the $65,000 star purchased from Baltimore.

BASEBALL PLAYERS

Limbering Up Now With Joint-Ease

After the game or practice Joint Ease takes the kinks, lameness and soreness out of your throwing arm so quickly that you'll want to start all over again in a few hours.

It's great stuff—speedy and sure, and many stars are wise to it.

Just two minutes' rubbing and this great, stainless Joint Ease soaks right in through skin and flesh right to the ligaments and tendons and bones—exactly where the soreness is.

Ask for a tube of Joint-Ease and keep limbered up, as thousands of other ball players do. Costs but a trifle at druggists.

22 Cars To Race In Classic

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind .—Twenty-two machines, having proved their rights to compete in the annual 500-mile automobile race at the Indianapolis Motor Speedway tomorrow, were being torn down and rebuilt for the last time Tuesday. Four other cars, the remainder of the entries, were scheduled to take their speed trials late Tuesday.

Th foreign contingent, with the exception of one machine, has met every trial and the pre-race fans are considering these cars seriously as contenders for the leading positions. They have not displayed the speed of the American creations but they have evidence of sturdiness and endurance. Three German cars and four French machines to date have qualified to start. Another French car will be hurled over the bricks this afternoon in an effort to average 80 miles an hour or better for 10 miles—the required speed for participation.

The usual race crowd began pouring into the city Monday and Monday night. Thousands visited the track Monday and saw 14 drivers put their cars thru the qualifying trials. After witnessing the performances of the little racers, many persons expressed the opinion that last year's record time of 94 miles an hour would be bettered.

YESTERYEARS IN WORLD OF SPORT

TEN YEARS AGO, on May 29, 1913, Jimmy Duffy won on foul over Jack Britton in sixth round at Buffalo.

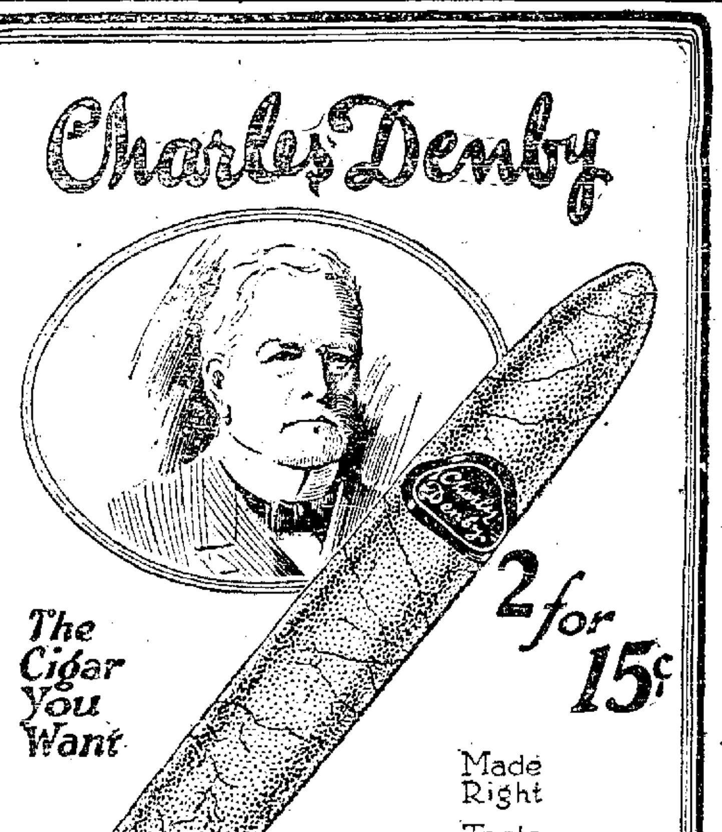

TWENTY-FIVE YEARS AGO, on May 29, 1898, Tim Hurst denied reports that he was about to be married. He had trouble enough, he said, trying to land pennant for St. Louis.

Oberlin Seems Favorite In Big 6 Meet

DELAWARE—Oberlin and Ohio Wesleyan track teams should hold the center of the stage at the Big Six meet at Columbus June 2 in a struggle for first place with Oberlin having a decided edge. This is the prediction of Wesleyan dopesters after careful examination of the contents of the frequenly upset bucket.

Denison is considered a sure third and Miami fourth. Denison should take four first places. Wesleyan three, Oberlin two, Case two, Miami, Ohio, Akron and Reserve each one. The running events will be extremely close it is believed here, and hence dope as to the number of first places the different colleges will take is unusually uncertain. Good records should be made in the majority of the events.

NEW YORK — Opening quotations in today's stock market were irregular with the main tendency again upward. Rail shares continued to move to higher ground in further response to the favorable showing made by April earnings statements. Underwood Typewriter advanced 3 points to a new high record for the year and LaClede Gas advanced 1. Some selling took place in the minor oils and a few speculative industrials such as Studebaker, Bethlehem Steel and American Smelting, all of which yielded fractionally. Shipping shares and American Can made partial recovery from recent heaviness.

Several of the usual leaders were inclined to sell off after the initial buying orders has been disposed of. Studebaker, Marland Oil, Gulf States Steel and American and Baldwin Locomotives extended their early losses to a point or more. Coppers also were heavy. Coca Cola dropped 3 points. The stock was placed on a $7 annual basis yesterday but the quarterly payment of 1 3-4 per cent compared with the previous regular payment of 1 1-2 per cent and 1-2 per cent extra. Erie common and first preferred advanced 1 and 2 points respectively. Gains of 1 to nearly 2 points also were recorded in Atlantic Refining, American International Corporation, Postum Cereal, Cuyamel Fruit, California Petroleum, Dupont and Colorado Fuel. U. S Cast Iron Pipe sold 3 1-4 points above the previous sale. Foreign exchanges opened lower. Demand sterling dropped 1-8 of a cent to $4.62 1-8 and French francs dropped 2 points to 6.61 cents. German marks sold at .0016 5-8 cents as against the extreme low of .0016 1-4 established yesterday.

The irregular course of prices during the morning indicated a division of professional speculative opinion over the immediate course of prices. Bear traders conducted their operations with some success against a number of speculative industrials, Marland Oil falling two points and motors, equipment, rubbers, chemicals and some of the rails having periods of heaviness. Operations for the raise were confined to the rail shares. Union Pacific, Reading, Southern Pacific, Jackson and Baltimore and Ohio were conspicuously strong. Canadian Pacific and Texas and Pacific, however, were heavy, losing 1 1-2 and one point respectively. Crucible Steel was pushed up three points and California Petroleum and American Petroleum about 1 3-4 each. Call money opened at 4 1-2 per cent.

Prices made further recovery in today's relatively dull stock market after an early period of irregularity. Railroad shares were strong in further reflection of unusually favorable earning statments. Some scattered selling took place in the industrials during the morning but there was a sharp rally in the afternoon trading. Sales approximated 725,000 shares.

The closing was firm.

EGGS AND POULTRY WILL BE MARKETED BY FARMERS THRU OWN ORGANIZATIONS

Another step toward control of marketing farm products was taken by farmers of the country in the decision of a national conference of farm bureau heads at Chicago, to establish egg and poultry markets in each county, M. G. Lincoln, executive secretary of the Ohio Farm Bureau federation, announced Tuesday.

Mr. Lincoln, who visited the local farm bureau offices enroute to Findlay where he will speak at a conference of nine county farm bureau heads, is highly optimistic over progress of the farmer toward management of distribution and sale of his own product.

LEHR MILLER IS NAMED RECEIVER FOR WILLIAMS'

Lehr Miller, former county treasurer, was named receiver of the affairs of Lela and Clyde Williams, defendants, in a $290 suit brought by the Rhoda Body Co. heard by Judge T. E. Eastman, of Allen common pleas court Tuesday.

Williams purchased a White Cabin for $4,300, paying $1,000 down. He purchased a body from the Rhoda concern. When payments lapsed the Herring Motor Car Co took action to seize the truck, body and all, it is stated. The Rhoda Co. entered court and asked for a receiver.

CHICAGO—With shorts evening up for the holiday tomorrow and with the maximum crop in Kansas estimated at only 88,000,000 bushels, wheat averaged a little higher in price today during the early dealings. At first, however, the market here reflectd a downturn in Liverpool quotations. The weakness at Liverpool was ascribed to reports that Argentine shippers were consigning more wheat afloat unsold. Initial prices here which ranged from 1-8 to 5-8 lower with July $1.13 5-8 to 1.14 and September $1.12 3-8 to 1.12 1-2 were followed by a rally to well above yesterday's finish for July and September but with May inclined to lag.

Indications of good cash demand from the east gave independent strength to the corn market. After opening 1S lower to 1-2c higher, July 77 1-2, corn prices scored gains all around.

Oats sympathized with corn. Starting at a shade off to 1-4 advance July 40 1-2 to 40 5-8 the oats market showed a slight general upturn.

Provisions were lower as a result of a drop in quotations on hogs.

Wheat prices closed unsettled 3-4 to 2 1-4 net lower with July $1.12 7-8 to 1.13 and September $1.11 7-8 to 1.12.

Corn closed unsettled at the same as yesterday's finish to 3-8c higher, July 77 1-4.

You can't take your favorite Service Station with you

Top-notch motor satisfaction—pep, power, speed with economy—comes only from using the same good gas all the time. But the convenient nearness of some particular service station or a liking for a given attendant may lead you to overlook this mechanical fact and to forget that you can't take your favorite service station with you on summer tours and week end trips.

But if your "favorite" is a "Red Crown" station or a Red Crown dealer, you can be sure of the same good gas and the same good service wherever you go in Ohio. For over 400 Standard service stations and thousands of Red Crown dealers dot every highway and by-way in the Buckeye State.

Red Crown Gasoline is famous for its complete chain of boiling points. It is the best motor gasoline we know how to make after fifty years of trying to make it better.

5 Grades Polarine Motor Oils

Polarine Motor Oils are supplied in five grades to insure correct lubrication of every type of motor. Polarine Transmission Lubricants and Greases provide perfect lubrication of all transmission units. And the Polarine Chart of Recommendations is a quick, sure guide to the proper grade for every part of your car.

See the Polarine Chart at any Standard Service Station—or at any store or garage where you find the Polarine sign.

GOVERNOR SMITH IN PICKLE

Faced by Two Fires in Dry Act Repeal Measure

((BY LAWRENCE MARTIN)

WASHINGTON —(United Press)—Governor Al Smith, of New York, a political Hamlet, holds the spotlight, while politicians of both parties try to guess which horn of the dilemma he will choose

To sign or not to sign—that is the question Smith must answer, with respect to the law repealing the New York state prohibition enforcement code. The choice is not simple. Smith will get in trouble whatever he does.

It would not matter much if Smith were an insignificant, one-term governor somewhere, but he is one of the principal Democratic presidential possibilities Here is the pickle he is in:

If he signs the repealer, he will fly in the face not only of all the dry sentiment in New York state—which might be negligible—but will kill himself with all drys in the Democratic party elsewhere, will flaunt defiance in the face of President Harding, and, worse than all these politically, will be in the position of reviving the old dead state's rights issue All this would be fatal to presidential aspirations.

If he does not sign, he will practically kill himself with his own party in his own state He will be enounced as a quitter and read out of the party by angry partisans who will accuse him of truckling to the Republican administration at Washington and to the drys. He would have a hard time coming back in New York politics, and if, after flouting his own people, he should run in the Democratic national convention, he would be knifed.

LIMA LADY COULD HARDLY WALK

Would Have to Push a Chair in Front of Her to Get Around

SHE PRAISES PLANT JUICE

"I can truthfully say that your Plant Juice medicine did wonders for me and I feel that it has completely relieved my trouble," said Mrs. Laura Taylor, of 656 Dingledine avenue, Lima, while talking with The Plant Juice Man a few days ago at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, where large crowds of local people are calling daily.

"For the last five years I had been having attacks of bloating which got so bad at times that it was hard for me to take a good breath. I also suffered with my knees swelling and would have puffs on my knees as large as a good sized egg It got so that it was hard for me to walk and for a time, the only way I could get around was by pushing a chair in front of me. Finally, I got so bad that I had to go to bed

"I read about your Plant Juice in the papers and started taking it and began to feel better almost immediately. I have now been relieved of those bloating spells and the swelling of my limbs has disappeared and I can walk now as good as I ever could. I can do my work and am in better condition than for years.

"I had tried many other medicines without results but I can truthfully say that your Plant Juice did wonders for me and has completely relieved my trouble."

The Plant Juice Man is at Hunter's drug store, 49 Public Square, Lima, where he is daily meeting the local public and introducing and explaining the merits of this remedy. Free samples given.

Plant Juice is sold also in Lima at Hunter's drug store at Main and Wayne streets and at the Argonne drug store, opposite Post Office. —Adv.

SHORT SHAVINGS

Mrs. Carl Rupe left her gasoline flatiron on the oil stove in her kitchen at Alger.

All the neighbors knew about it when the resulting explosion blew out the kitchen doors and windows and lifted the rest of the house off its foundation.

* * *

Walt Dewease, accomplished sign painter, who offers to paint signs with either his right or left hand, as patrons may wish, interests a friend who writes:

"I know a restaurant check-room girl who can take in dimes with both her right and left hand at the same time, without dropping a hat."

* * *

I. W. Green, realtor, rises to remark that many a true word is spoken in just a minute, and tells the story of an amateur bill poster named Bert Holcomb.

Holcomb was assigned to paste up some posters for an amateur musical comedy and song recital. He took his work seriously. After purchasing a suit of bill-poster's overalls, he mixed up a large pail of paste of rare sticking power, and set out to post an announcement on the board in front of the hall.

He laid a large sheet of paper out on the sidewalk and covered one side of it with a thick coating of paste. He hadn't reckoned on a stiff breeze when he undertook to slap the sheet on the billboard. A gust of wind whipped the sheet down over his head, completely enveloping him, hat and all, to the level of his elbows. He turned about so suddenly that the brush end of his long-handled paste brush knocked three friends off the curb. Then he fell over the handle and sat down in his paste pail.

* * *

H. D. Grindle, attorney, witnessed the confusion of a mild-looking man on a Main-st car. The car started with a jolt and the mild-looking man sat down in the lap of a woman passenger to whom he never had been introduced. For a moment he seemed unable to guess how he got there. Then he said, "Er—I think I fell."

Exide BATTERIES

When you need plenty of light

For city driving, lights do not count for so much—just enough illumination to cover the law, and that is all a driver demands. But out on a dark country road, adequate lighting often means the difference between safety and disaster.

If you have a temperamental battery, you follow the road only by intuition. But with a good, healthy battery, each turn in the road, each hole, each stone, is plainly visible to you as you sit behind the wheel.

The importance of having a powerful, dependable battery in your car cannot be exaggerated. It means safety. It means comfort.

Real lasting-power

Rugged power is built into the Exide Battery. It lasts so much longer than other batteries do that it has earned year in and year out the title of the long-life battery.

There is economy in owning an Exide, not to mention safety and comfort. You will find an Exide the right size for your car at the nearest Exide Service Station.
